5-MILE SEWER TO BE BUILT BY WAR PLANT GETS CITY APPROVAL

Project Includes $70,000 Section To Relieve Long-Standing Drainage Problem in East Side.

Provision for the construction of a five-mile sewage disposal line from the Seltzer Ordnance Plant, in connection with Marion's present sewer system, was made last night at a special session of city council. Authorization for the project came in the form of a unanimous vote by council for a contract between the city and the government.

Included in the system, the total cost of which is to be borne by the government, is a 1500-foot section in the east end of town in the vicinity of the north end of Forest and Summit streets which is expected to relieve a sewer problem of long standing. Installation of this section will eliminate a street-flooding problem which has been troubling the city since the original sewer installation, which was inadequate, was made.

It is estimated this section alone will cost the government about $70,000 to construct. Officials have not announced the estimated cost of the whole sewer project.

In addition to the construction of this system for the city, the government contract provides for the payment of a rental fee for the use of the city's sewage disposal facilities. It is estimated this fee will amount to approximately $8,750 over a period of three years. The rate schedule is set up in the contract as follows:

40 cents per thousand cubic feet for the first 150,000,000 cubic feet of sewage metered.
10 cents per thousand cubic feet for the next 50,000,000 cubic feet of sewage metered.
15 cents per thousand cubic feet of sewage metered in excess of 200,000,000 cubic feet.

Sewage Flow Estimated
Engineers told council it is expected the system will handle about 1,000,000 gallons of sewage a day from the plant.

The section of the system which will be the benefit of the city will be a gravity flow line. The other section of the system will be constructed as a pressure main, with a pumping station located on the government reservation. This main will be the only pump pressure system in the city. Councilmen Barnard and Stief were not present at the meeting; the other eight members cast their vote after a lengthy discussion in the mayor's office with representatives of Holabird & Root, contracting architects for the ordinance plant. The representatives were Byron T. Jones, engineer, J. E. Burgee, residents' partner for the firm, and Lionel Mantel, associate attorney for the war department.

Also present were Safety-Serv Director Clyde C. Caldwell and City Engineer Tom St. Others.

Total of Five Miles
This system will be the beginning of a sewer system nearly five miles long to be built by the government. The whole system will extend from Church street north, with a few lateral deviations, to the Williamsport road where the administrative offices of the ordinance plant are now being set up.

The section mentioned which will cost nearly $70,000 may be traced as follows: In Church street, starting at the alley between Elm and Forest streets, to the alley which is nearly opposite Summit street; north in this alley to Center street and then east along Center street to Jefferson street.

From Center at Jefferson street, the sewer will continue north as a "pressure flow system" to Fairground street; then east along Fairground street to the Likens-Chapel road and north along the Likens-Chapel road to the site now owned by the government. The latter section, which will be of no particular benefit to the city, is the one which drew most comment from councilmen. Mr. Stief inquired whether or not the pressure flow system would be of any benefit to the city after the plant is abandoned.

In reply, Mr. Burgee said the city could install a pumping station at such a time and that such a move would probably be the most economical the city could make regarding sewers in that section of town.

Gravity Flow Included
He said the plant engineers, at the suggestion of City Engineer Tom St. Others, had decided to include the gravity flow system in the whole project but that it was not essential to the installation of the ordinance plant system.

Mr. Burgee here requested Mr. (Turn to SEWER, Page 7)

A Pledge To Buy War Bonds Is Evidence Of Your Faith In a Victorious America

Nationwide Campaign Starts

Today; Marion Drive Set
May 8, 9 and 10.

TO CALL AT EVERY HOME

Marion Organizations Plan

for City Canvass; Rural Meeting Tonight.

It's up to Marion—every one of us earning wages or income—to express our faith in America and to support the boys on the firing line with a pledge to buy War Bonds.

Just how effectively this community is to do this will be expressed in connection with a nationwide nine-day movement starting today in which every wage earner and every household is asked to pledge the purchase of a definite amount of War Bonds from now on through the duration of the war.

Marion city will go into action for their part of the campaign with a house-to-house canvass on May 8, 9 and 10. Dates for the county campaign outside the city haven't been set but may be arranged to coincide with the city dates. This will be decided at a meeting of the rural campaign group tonight.

The drive in Marion city will be conducted by hundreds of Marion women donating their services in a campaign organization set up by the Kiwanis club. They will visit every home to give every household and wage earner in factory, office or store an opportunity to sign a pledge blank and receive a window emblem which signifies their support for an America at war.

The pledge is a promise to lend the government a regular portion of each pay check and the loan is to be made through purchase of War Savings Bonds—which return ample interest. It is not a gift. It is an investment and a method of preserving a portion of the average family savings.

The promise, which is to be made voluntarily, will remain in effect until the war is over or until the pledge is no longer financially able to keep it.

Window Emblem Important.
The window emblem—white Minuteman and stars on a field of blue—will identify the homes, or automobiles, of those pledging. (Blue turns black in a photograph, hence the accompanying reproduction of the emblem does not truly depict its coloring.)

Homes missed in the general canvass of the city, householders who may be absent will be reached later so that no one will have cause to feel that he was intentionally or unintentionally overlooked. Methods by which the re-check will be made are in process of development.

Many individuals are buying War Savings Bonds now on regular purchase plans, through payroll allotments at places of employment, through banks, through the postoffice, direct from the Treasury Department, or from authorized agents.

Such purchasers should sign the Pledge Card. It does not mean for them any additional purchase or promise. It simply puts their present commitment on record and permits them to receive the window emblem. They should state the manner in which they now are buying and the amount of regular weekly or monthly payroll allotment.

In such instances, husbands are urged to inform their wives of the amount of their payroll deduction, so that the latter may enter it on the Pledge Card.

The Pledge is not an order for the purchase of Bonds, but a promise to buy a certain amount at regular intervals through an authorized agency, confidential. No one but the signer and the recording official will know if or how much anyone has pledged.

So U.S. May Look Ahead
The pledge is voluntary. If a person does not want to sign or cannot afford to, no one is going to force him to do so.

By taking Pledges, the Treasury Department of the United States will be able to compute the extent of Marion's willingness—the nation's willingness—to voluntarily finance the war.

Such computations, the Treasury Department will know how to proceed in the matter of taxation. The Pledge is signed in triplicate. The original copy will be sent to the U.S. Treasury Department for permanent official record. One copy will be retained by the signer. The other copy will (Turn to WAR BONDS, Page 7)

Sugar Consumer Rationing Scheduled for Next Week

Will Start in Marion City and County Monday and Run Four Days.

Registering of individual consumers of sugar and distributing of rationing books will start Monday in Marion city and county and continue through Thursday. The registration will affect every man, woman and child in the county, nearly 45,000 persons.

Retail sales of sugar ceased at midnight last Monday night in a one-week "freeze" while the rationing program was set in motion. Sales will be resumed next Tuesday on rationing basis.

Marion city and county wholesale, retail, industrial and institutional users registered for rationing last Tuesday and Wednesday.

While the registration is for sugar, everyone should have a rationing book since the books will be used later if other commodities are rationed. County Rationing Coordinator John P. Probst announced.

The registration has been turned over to Supt. E. E. Holt of the city schools and Supt. D. T. Mills of the county schools, who today announced their plans.

In both the city and county an attempt will be made to conduct the registration alphabetically, as follows:

Monday, A through E; Tuesday, F through K; Wednesday, L through R; Thursday, S through Z.

Persons who cannot register on the day suggested may do so on any one of the four days, but it will help expedite the registration if the alphabetical plan is followed as nearly as possible, the school administrators said.

Time Schedule
In the city the registrations will be made in the elementary schools from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. on each of the four days. Registrants have been asked to go to the school in the district where they live. Junior high and elementary schools will be dismissed at noon for four days to free teachers for the registration. Junior high school teachers have been assigned to elementary buildings to assist.

County residents, with the exception of Marion township, may register at their high schools, from 3 to 9 p. m. on any of the four days. The registration will be continuous, with lunch served to the registrants. Mr. Mills said he expected the five Marion town-members. This includes syrups. Each person is permitted to have two pounds of sugar on hand at the time of registering and for this amount no stamps are removed from the rationing books. However, for the next four pounds on hand for each person, stamps will be removed at the rate of one stamp for each pound.

Persons who have more than six pounds on hand will file application for rationing books and will not receive books until they have reduced their supply to the per-person two-pound minimum. When the stock of sugar is owned for family use by two or more families units in common, it will be considered as owned by all members of the units.

Keep Record of Number
Both Supt. Holt and Supt. Mills warned registrants to make a note of the serial number of their rationing books and the number of their rationing board as a safeguard if the book should be lost or mutilated.

If guests come for the week or the week-end, they should bring their rationing books or their own sugar, since the host's supply will be limited.

If a person enters a hospital or institution for a period of 10 days or longer, he must give his rationing book to the head of the institution. If he will be returned to him when he leaves, his rationing book should be turned in to the local rationing board. If a baby is born, it also should be registered with the local board.

Questions concerning college students are covered in a "quiz" appearing on another page of tonight's Star and also covered in the dates when the stamps will be valid, the procedure of using the stamps and many other questions which may arise.

Discussing the point that everyone in the city and county should register, or be registered, the (Turn to SUGAR, Page 7)

STALIN CALLS FOR VICTORY

With U. S. and British Aid Nazis Must Be Smashed This Year, He Says.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 1.—Joseph Stalin declared in a May day order of the day today that Soviet Russia, receiving more and more military aid from Britain and the United States, must smash Adolf Hitler's troops on a surrender-or-death basis to make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German Fascist armies."

"We are able to do this and we must do this, whatever happens," the premier-defense commissar told Soviet armed forces, guerrillas, workers and peasants on this international labor holiday, which was observed within Russia at work instead of at play.

He said Russia was fighting simply "a war of liberation, a just war."

Stalin declared "we have no such allies as the capture of other countries or enslaving other peoples," but added that the only way to win the war was to smash the invaders to the last man if they did not surrender.

"We must do this at any cost," he stated.

His message was carried to all Russians by billboards, newspapers, radio and a nationwide network of loudspeakers that drowned out the hum of machinery in flag-draped factories.

New Successes Reported
As he spoke, military reports told of new Soviet successes.

Besides the announced slaughter of 1,300 Germans on the central and Kalinin fronts, extensive guerrilla activities in the Crimea were declared to have cost the Germans and Rumanians 800 dead. Twenty-five Rumanians joined the guerrillas in attacking a food depot. Crimean reports said. The partisans were reported to well organized they now were publishing a paper, "The Crimean Guerrilla."

Soviet biplane pilots shot down a German biplane and platoon of German soldiers and platoon of German soldiers named Hitler, Reichsmarschal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Heinrich Himmler and other rulers of present-day Germany as "the watchdogs of the German bankers."

The premier-defense commissar asserted that Germany had weakened, while "our country (Turn to STALIN, Page 15)

94 PER CENT EXCESS PROFIT RATE SET

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The house ways and means committee agreed today on a flat 94 per cent excess profit tax rate for corporations.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) announced the committee had voted for the flat rate, and also had agreed to retain the present 24 per cent normal tax for corporations with income of more than $250,000 for said the committee hoped to vote later in the day on new surtax schedules which are either 6 or 7 per cent at present, depending on income.

Representative Cooper (D-Tenn.) who explained the committee's action with Doughton, said the members also had agreed to revise the excess profit credit allowed corporations on their invested capital as follows: 8 per cent on the first $500,000 of the vested capital; 6 per cent on the second $500,000; 5 per cent on the next $500,000; and 3 per cent on the excess above $2,000,000.

ROME, BERLIN LEADERS MEET AT SALZBURG

Purpose of Axis Conference Causes Widespread Speculation in Europe.

By The Associated Press

Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, whose meetings in the past have frequently signalled the approach of momentous events, met in a two-day conference ending yesterday at Salzburg, Austria. It was announced officially today.

Meanwhile, the London Daily Mail hinted that Germany was seeking to cry quits on aerial warfare with England, climaxing thunderous blows by RAF warplanes against Nazi-dominated Europe.

The Daily Mail quoted a Berlin dispatch to the Swiss newspaper, Journal de Geneve, as saying: "It is semi-officially stated here that Germany will call off the bombing of English towns if the RAF will change its methods of bombing German cities."

"The present bombing duel is highly unpopular with the German people," the dispatch added. But authoritative British quarters, commenting on the purported offer, declared "we are going after these blunders wherever they are, and that is final."

In the usual stereotyped form, a German communiqué said the axis dictators met "in a spirit of close friendship and the indissoluble brotherhood-in-arms of their nations."

Allied conjecture, however, centered on the possibility that these points were discussed:

1. Last-minute decisions on the heralded German grand offensive against Russia.

2. Reports of a smoldering revolt and war-weariness in Italy.

3. A possible joint German-Italian offer of peace, on axis terms, to the allies.

Informed British quarters declared the purpose of the Salzburg conference obviously was to keep Mussolini in line.

"Hitler must keep both ends of the axis moving in the same direction," these quarters said, "and to do this he must give Mussolini a pep talk."

It was said that a meeting of the fuhrer and it duce, since their countries went to war against the United States last December.

The official announcement said: "The meeting resulted in a perfect accord of views on the situation created by the overwhelming victories of the tripartite powers and on the further conduct of the war by the two nations in both political and military spheres."

Stress Spirit of Friendship
Conversations between the two axis leaders took place "in a spirit of close friendship and the indissoluble brotherhood-in-arms of their nations," said the announcement, issued from Salzburg.

(Japan is the third nation in "the tripartite powers," but if she was represented at the conference the communiqué failed to state that fact.)

Japanese broadcasts from Tokyo today said Lieut. Gen. Kaneyoshi Sakahashi, military attaché at the Japanese embassy in Berlin, departed yesterday for Rome where he was expected to confer with the German ambassador.

Renewed expression, it was said, was given to the determination of Germany and Italy to insure final victory by all means in their power.

Ribbentrop Plans There
Both the German and Italian foreign ministers, Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Count Galeazzo Ciano, were present.

Also attending were Field Marshal General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, General Ugo Cavallero, chief of the Italian general staff, Dina Alfieri, Italian ambassador to Berlin, and Hans Korff, German ambassador to Rome.

Salzburg is in former Austria, 24 per cent north of the Brenner pass where Hitler and Mussolini have staged many of their past meetings.

An informed British source in London said today the purpose of the Salzburg conference of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini obviously was to keep the Italian premier in line with the axis.

He added that Hitler doubtless felt the need to explain his Sunday speech, first-hand—for it needs some explaining to the Italian people.

"At the same time," he said, "there is no good reason to hope that Italy can be jacked out of the war now. What can Italians do with the gasoline holding clubs over their heads?"

Others here pointed out that big developments usually had followed meetings of the dictators.

The meeting at Brenner pass March 13, 1940, was followed by (Turn to PARLEY, Page 17)

Tire Thief Given 30-Day Sentence and Fine of $200

Court Announces Severe Penalties To Be Given in Such Cases.

Tire thieves will be dealt with severely in Marion's municipal court, Judge W. D. Hazen of the court announced today, and put his statement into effect by sentencing a convicted tire thief to 30 days in the Columbus workhouse and fining him $200 and costs.

He is Robert Ivey, 33, of Harrison street who pleaded guilty before Judge Hazen today to a charge of petit larceny.

Municipal Judge Hazen said he gave Ivey the maximum sentence which was possible under the law not only because of the breaking of the law but because he thought tire stealing "unpatriotic."

He said such thefts would "help to lose the war."

Maximum Sentence
He said maximum sentences would be given all such offenders in the future. He said if the thief were guilty of removing the tire from a vehicle, he would also be charged with removing a part from an automobile, which would make him subject to a fine of $500 and a sentence of (Turn to TIRE THIEF, Page 7)

Men in War Industries Average 48 Hours A Week

Some Go as High as 56; Limit for Efficiency Believed To Be Under 50.

What hours are employees working in war production plants today? What are workers doing in other war-related nations? Frank J. Walker gives some official figures in this second of three articles on America's war-production jobs.

BY FRANK J. WALKER
WASHINGTON, May 1.—(Wide World)—Employees in key war industries, with some exceptions, are working a national average of 48 hours or more a week.

This is the statement of the office of Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the war production board. Here are the number of hours and employee works during an average week in these war shops: machine tool plants 58; engine factories 54; shipyards, 52; locomotive shops, 52; Ordnance facories, 51; and aircraft plants, 50.

Authorities made public these figures to show the impression that war workers were refusing to put in more than 48 hours a week.

The controversial "40-hour week" does not limit the individual shop employee to 40 hours of labor and no more during any 7-day period. A man may work as long as he pleases, provided his employer has a job for him.

Crux of Problem
What the law specifically does demand is that when an employer causes an employee to work more than 40 hours a week he must pay him time-and-a-half for each hour of overtime.

It is quite possible that before this thing ends all workers in war industries will be at their benches for what now seems a fantastic number of hours. The British, whose health and efficiency experience largely may determine the new labor laws, have settled down to an average 54 to 56 hours as the regular weekly maximum for efficiency. They, of course, are nearer the scene of action and are spurred by deeper emotional intensity. But British factories are not always geared to the same tremendous pace set over here.

Some production men say that because of high-speed production, Americans work best on an 8-hour day.

England jumped her average work-week to 60 hours per man shortly after the war began. She dropped down to 57 early in 1940 when the strain proved too great.

Came the fall of France and Hitler's threat to invade the British Isles. Labor Minister Bevin called on Englishmen to "work 81 hours a week, and produce like hell!" Men stood at their machines until they dropped from fatigue. Even the women and children in the home and Japanese factories. The British war effort is now 60 hours a week and the Japanese 70 hours.

The industry has a number of pressures on it. It is a matter of fact that a man who works 48 hours a week and gets paid for 40 hours is not a very efficient worker.

With the key of national defense, the pay scale here is quite different. It is a matter of fact that a man who works 48 hours a week and gets paid for 40 hours is not a very efficient worker.

Ford Favors "Shorter Week"
Henry Ford once said that labor maintained more efficiency when it worked more than 41 hours a week.

Even today, management by and large is against a 40-hour week. A government survey found only two of 650 in the employ of the 40-hour law had been reduced to 40 hours a week since the law took effect.

Men are working for beyond 40 hours for extra pay. Some say they could do it for patriotism alone. But England found it necessary to offer her labor legion added financial inducement for a 40-hour week.

The Royal Commission on the Labor Question, all members of which are not unionists, found that the 40-hour week was not being observed by any one work week.

The Stars Say—
For Saturday, May 2

According to the most powerful or idealic operations this should be a day of conquest and achievement. If new ideas, plans, objectives, with discreet but aggressive action be pursued. There may be a strong proclivity to drastic or over-energetic procedure or to meet obligations and duties with reluctance or unfeelingness, while an amiable, logical and prudent course would assure the cooperation of large public agencies whose support is imperative.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of splendid opportunity for hitting high spots of accomplishment and appreciation, especially in new, radical, revolutionary or strange propositions or unusual objectives, even though such efforts be subject to post-hoc, frustrations, obstacles or surprising and irregular situations. The inclination may be toward battling down such opposition by drastic action or main force, with over-assertive and unreasonable tactics. The tendency to resent or resist obligations and normal duties should be restrained for amiable compromise and friendliness, which may attract support of large bodies of political, community, or corporate interest. Attention to health is not amiss.

A child born on this day may be aggressive, energetic and determined to gain conspicuous headway in its novel projects.

Quiz Answers Sugar Rationing Questions

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Rationing of sugar comes to Ohio next week. If you are uncertain about how to get your ration book and answers may assist you.

Q—Why is it necessary to ration sugar?
A—War is cutting off the supply of commodities the United States usually imports from other parts of the world. The shortage of sugar is not yet so acute but the country must be prepared to conserve its supply.

Q—What is the purpose of rationing?
A—Rationing assures two things: that the nation's war needs for sugar will be met and met fast; and that all the sugar available after that will be fairly divided between all the civilian users in the United States.

Q—Who may apply for sugar?
A—Every person living in the United States except members of the armed forces who regularly receive rations in kind and persons confined to public or private institutions and whose meals are furnished by such institution.

Q—Who is the correct person to apply for a book?
A—Persons who are applying for every member of a family. Such applicants must be 18 years of age or over, or married persons if under 18. A responsible person must apply for persons under 18 years of age who are not self-supporting. Persons who are 18 years of age and who are not members of a family unit also must apply.

Q—What about college students?
A—If a person 18 years of age or over has left home to attend college, he should apply for a book before he leaves home.

Q—What about persons who eat all their meals in restaurants?
A—A person is entitled to a war ration book in spite of the fact that he may eat all his meals at a restaurant, boarding house or similar place and has no present intention of buying any sugar. The war ration book may later be used for some product when he has to be rationed.

Q—How do I proceed to obtain a ration book which enables me to buy sugar?
A—There will be a war ration book for everyone. You will report to an elementary school or your school district during the four-day registration period beginning May 4 and continuing through May 7, inclusive. War ration books will not be given to any person possessing at the time of registration a supply of sugar amounting to more than 6 pounds.

Use Less Paint

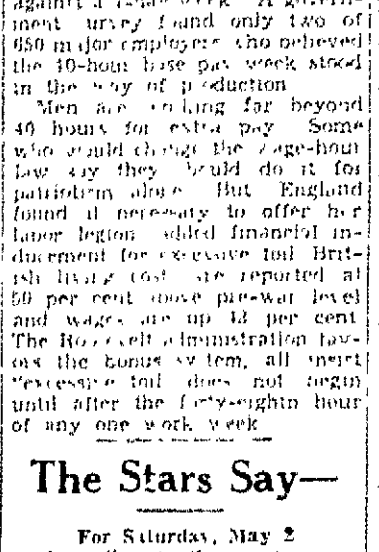

LOWE BROTHERS' HIGH STANDARD HOUSE PAINT costs less per square foot of surface painted and outlasts ordinary paints—both of these merits are due to its high quality. Some low-grade paints analyzed by recognized laboratories were found to contain 65% of water and other evaporating liquids. This left only 35% of film-forming solids to protect the surface. Lowe Brothers' High Standard Liquid Paint contains 90% of protective film-forming solids. Be sure of better results and more pleasing effects by using Lowe Brothers' Pictorial Color Chart showing actual painted reproductions of new and modern color schemes.

and numerous tracts of land around Marion which have been the subject of rumors concerning new defense housing areas. A 150-acre section at the southwest edge of town immediately west of Bennett street, Federal housing administration have surveyed the land, but a report known what the result of the survey was. Although 80 per cent of the tract were plotted as a defense housing area, it is believed that specifications are not in accordance with F.H.A. requirements mentioned as a possible objection to the use of the location as housing area is the fact that a sewer system would have to be installed before the project can be undertaken.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

An interceptor plane, the eagle of the air. It flies much as a strike swiftly. Armed and equipped, these fast planes cost about $150,000 each. But you and your neighbors and the neighbors in other communities, each chipping in with a $14.75 War Bond can quickly pay the cost of an interceptor plane.

These planes have a speed of up to 400 miles an hour and a ceiling of about 30,000 feet. We want thousands of them. So join the parade of War Bond buyers every pay day. Add to the quota in your country.

MARION MARKET HIT
BY BANANA SCARCITY

Shortage Is Nationwide, Sell at 9 Cents Each in N. Y.

Bananas have become scarcer and more expensive in Marion. The supply of bananas in the city has decreased about 50 per cent, one fruit dealer reported, and added that he had first noticed the slump about four weeks ago.

Slight gains in price were generally reported, and one dealer said prices had increased from about five to about 30 cents a pound since the first of the year. Reasons for the shortage are the federal government's taking over a number of merchant ships for war use, the number of ships now being sunk and the enforced operation of many ships through southern U. S. ports such as New Orleans rather than via the nearer port of New York City.

The banana shortage has hit the nation's market generally. The Associated Press reports. Neighboring stores are charging 8 cents a piece for bananas in New York, or as low as 5 cents (slightly bruised) at the big open markets and pushcarts.

One dealer said he sold nothing but bananas until three weeks ago. Now he's forced to feature apples, pears, oranges and lemons.

Professional Shoppers
To Check Store Prices

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The office of price administration intends to use trained professional shoppers in checking on sellers' observance of the forthcoming ceiling prices on the cost of living items.

This was made known at a press conference yesterday, by Dexter Keezer, deputy price administrator, and Robert E. Sessions, director of the consumers division.

They agreed that it is not desired that housewives engage in what Keezer described as "busy work," that is, setting themselves up to police the grocers and stores and other merchants. However, they said complaints of possible violations of ceilings would be welcome but Sessions emphasized that the women must be well informed in order to make worthy complaints.

"50% Longer life
for my motor with
V.E.P. Allied-Oil?"
YOU BET I'M INTERESTED!"

* New V.E.P. Allied-Oil will make the engine of your car last half again as long as it would with ordinary oil

YES SIR! SCIENTIFIC TESTS, plus over five million miles of road travel, prove it! V.E.P. Allied-Oil gives you a 50% bonus in motor life over what you'd get with any straight mineral oil.

IN OTHER WORDS, MISTER, your motor will be in as good shape at the end of the next 30,000 miles with V.E.P. as it would have been at 20,000 using ordinary oil. And meanwhile you've pocketed real savings in gasoline and oil, too.

V.E.P. SAVES WEAR

1. THREE TIMES THE RESISTANCE TO "SHOCK" caused by quick starts, high speeds, motor-braking . . . to extreme heat and pressure of today's motors.

2. AVOIDS "FIRST-MINUTE" DAMAGE. A "magnetic-like" film of V.E.P. clings to cylinder walls overnight . . . gives protective lubrication during critical warm-up period.

3. RIDES YOUR MOTOR OF HARMFUL SLUDGE, CARBON, VARNISH. "Housecleans" motor . . . then keeps it clean. Protects against harmful acids caused by products of combustion.

SAVES GASOLINE

V.E.P.'s cleaning action frees valves and piston rings . . . gives you a tighter seal . . . saves lost compression . . . turns gasoline into power instead of waste. A clean motor is a more efficient motor, a more economical motor.

SAVES OIL

By freeing valves, tight rings, unplugging the slots in your oil rings, V.E.P. prevents burning of excessive oil in combustion chamber, conserves it, instead.

Distributing the Goods

THE WAR BOND quota plan that goes into effect today is important for a number of reasons. If one were to be chosen for special emphasis, however, it might well be an improvement in distribution.

This country has made a specialty of reaching the ultimate consumer, or the purchaser of a War Stamp or Bond, in this case. Yet, with certain notable exceptions, all of which have demonstrated the importance of distribution, it has not done too good a job of distribution.

Specifically, it has not made War Stamps and Bonds easy enough to buy. The man who made the better mousetrap did have, after all, a path leading to his door. In too many cases, the path leading to the place where Stamps and Bonds were sold was not well marked.

Furthermore, not enough was done to get the better mousetraps to the purchaser. He was not approached as an individual. He was appealed to in the mass and thereafter was supposed to separate himself from the mass and make his purchase as an individual. It worked fairly well, but not well enough.

The amazing success of the special campaigns and of the personal contacts by newsmen proved what didn't need proving—that thousands of persons who wouldn't take the trouble of going somewhere to purchase War Stamps and Bonds would become purchasers if a salesman came to them directly. Advertising and discussion have created consumer acceptance for the treasury's program of war financing; the job that remained to be done was to get hold of the prospective purchaser and put over the clinching argument. Beginning today, the job will be done better. The intensive selling phase of the campaign is getting under way.

America's Army of Citizens

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, we believe, never has spoken more successfully than he did Tuesday night. His ability to reach the hearts of his countrymen is one of the nation's major assets in the war emergency.

His explanation of national economic policy and the executive orders putting it into effect have helped national strength and unity. America is stronger in the war today than it was yesterday. It has started to take a stitch in time. It is going to try to do something constructive about inflation.

Captious critics can make no rebuttal to the President's presentation of the case for all of us—not some of us, but all of us. A citizen army that remains at home must match the contribution of its armed forces. That is the case. There is no room for argument.

There is not even room for mental reservations. The plan for civilian measures to safeguard and fortify the military program which the President presented is unassailable from the standpoint of general welfare. It is not perfect. It is largely experimental. But it is vitally necessary.

Anyone who feels like objecting to its terms must be willing to explain, when challenged, both his motive and his alternative. If he would prefer not to endorse anti-inflation measures for fear of personal disadvantage, he must confess. There is no more room for selfishness in the citizen army at home than in the citizen army on the fighting fronts.

Patriotism of the highest order is being called for in this newest detail of the war effort. This nation has no ambition to conquer, to enslave, to debase. Its purpose is not to make the United States supreme, but only to make the principle of human freedom supreme. This calls for the patriotic cooperation of all free men, Americans in particular. They are blessed with the capacity for doing more; they have an opportunity to strike a powerful blow for freedom.

If it should seem to some of them at home that a program to stabilize prices, prevent unfair exploitation of war conditions and encourage popular investment in war indebtedness is related only distantly to the military effort, they must remember that soldiers and sailors cannot fight alone. Chaos on the domestic front would be reflected immediately on the fighting fronts. The Axis powers have challenged the ability of their enemies to win a war of attrition. President Roosevelt is asking his countrymen to accept the challenge.

When you put it that way, Mr. President, there can be only one answer. Your countrymen will do their part, wherever they may be, whatever they may be asked to do.

Limit Seen to Extent RAF Bombing of Nazi Plants Can Be Carried.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A second limit has been imposed on the extent of RAF bombing of Nazi plants in Germany.

The daily pounding of RAF bombers on German production will be accelerated, but there are limitations to how far it can go. The British lost 12 four-engine ships in a recent raid.

The seriousness of such a loss is evident when you consider our maximum production goal is about that many ships daily. The Nazis abandoned the air front in Britain because it was too expensive.

The story persists that General Marshall and Harry Hopkins went over to persuade the British to invade the continent immediately by sea. What they really went about is the demand which is being placed on our production, mainly our planes.

The Reds want bombers. The Syrian front is screaming for fighting ships. India has put in hurry calls for arms and General MacArthur thinks he can lounge back at the daps if he can get sufficient air strength.

There are more immediate problems than invasion of the continent.

Inflation

The President said he is spending $100,000,000 a day, will spend $200,000,000 daily before the end of the year and that this sum will cause inflation unless he acts. Yet only two steps in his plan are directed toward the cause. He wants to draw back an indefinite sum by having war workers (who are getting most of it) buy bonds voluntarily. A confiscatory excess profits tax on corporations, such as he mentioned, would recapture some.

But these two methods will not recapture more than a small fraction of $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 a day. Average daily bond sales the first 27 days of April amounted to $17,000,000. The July goal is $33,000,000. Daily excess profits tax income cannot be calculated, but it will not raise much.

Thus when the plan goes into effect, the great bulk of the money will remain outstanding, mainly in the hands of war workers and corporations. That is why so many economic authorities outside the government doubt that Mr. Roosevelt's course can be successful in curbing the inflation will be seen.

Secondary Cause

There is a secondary cause, the limited amount of goods for which "excess income" can be spent. The President moved directly at this contributing factor with the new Henderson price ceiling and a promise of limited rationing.

But the price ceiling will not recapture the money. It still will remain in circulation seeking other outlets. It will still exist as a menace promoting inflation. Perhaps the fault can better be described by citing the plans which the President did not propose.

Benefits of Walking

Hike Helps Both Mind and Body, Writer Declares.

A DAILY walk, aside from countless many physical benefits, actually improves the mental condition tremendously. E. A. Conklin, Norwich, N. Y., says in the May issue of Myra, the Health Magazine. He points out that "If you are inclined to be melancholy when you awake in the morning, a walk will help chase away your depression. If you have deep-rooted worries on your mind, walking will give your brain a temporary respite and allow you to face your difficulties a little later on with renewed vitality."

"If you haven't walked to amount to anything, a child, hood, you should exercise a little in the preliminary steps of becoming an expert hiker. For a beginner, a mile is sufficient. The experienced walker can gracefully stand four times as much. Walkers find that by gradually increasing the scope of their walk at the rate of an additional half mile each week, they are soon able to look a five mile hike in the face without wincing."

Aimed at Japs

WASHINGTON—The capital in wartime.

It probably has no significance whatever so far as major strategy in this war is concerned, but unofficial Washington is losing a lot more verbal venom at the Japs these days than at any other of our enemies.

Typical is the story that came out of the District of Columbia dog-bite investigator's office the other day. All dog bites, like traffic accidents, are supposed to be reported. Also, all rodent bites are supposed to be reported; but since the latter are so few, the reports are made on dog-bite forms.

This one had to do with a rat bite. The victim came to that spot in the questionnaire where he was asked: "Owner of the dog." He simply scratched out "dog," wrote "rat" in its place and answered the question: "Admiral Tojo, Tokyo, Japan."

President's New Mood

More Cheerful, and Spirit Spreads Over Washington.

By JACK STINNETT.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Get a crowd of Washington correspondents together these days and almost certainly the conversation will swing at some time to the change in President Roosevelt's mood in recent weeks.

Almost every press conference lately has found him cheerful and in good spirits—a mood that has been almost totally lacking since those gray days that followed the Jap attack on Hawaii.

It is almost a capital axiom that President Roosevelt seems best in adversity. When things are going wrong, he shoulders the load and seems almost to relish the carrying of it. Certainly there has been no war president who has borne up so well as President Roosevelt since Pearl Harbor.

Until recently something was lacking. Press conferences, even those in which the rare bits of good news were given out, had an atmosphere of depression.

It WAS something that could not be entirely attributed to adverse report from the war front. It was something that seemed to flow from the President himself.

It is true that he was working prodigiously, but the President has always done that without losing his buoyant spirit or his confidence in the future of the United States. It is true that he was not always well, being twice threatened with those annoying colds to which he is subject. But sometime ago now, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, the White House physician, persuaded him to drop some of the late night detail work which was too much of a drain on even the President's great energy. Generally, his physical condition has been excellent.

Then suddenly, a week or so ago, the President changed and the new mood, or rather resumption of that old one which Washington newspapermen know so well, has been maintained.

There are quips again from the President's desk—like his solemn announcement that the planes that bombed Japan came from Shanghai. Once more there are these little parables with which the President delights to clothe his news releases. Once more there is that unflinching spirit that seems to say it things are not all right they are going to be.

AND this change in mood seems to have spread out from the White House over Washington. I think it would be wrong to draw any conclusions from this, to gather from it any false optimism. The task ahead is not becoming any lighter as the spring days tick off. The comparative quiet on the major war fronts is not necessarily filled with any certainty of a turn in the tide of war. No one of those few who have access to all the news are willing to say anything like that, so far as I am able to determine.

The importance in this change in the President's mood and its reflection in other places in the capital, lies in the fact that it exists and seems to be instilling in many of those who are giving their long days entirely to the war effort a new courage and determination which has not always been apparent in the months since we went to war.

Capital Oddities

WASHINGTON—The Indian bureau has an odd rule. Employees must take 15 minutes leave (without pay) when they want to get a drink of water. . . . Employees of no other agency are so penalized. . . . Most fashionable job in Washington these days is "liaison man." War agencies, and old-line offices as well, have taken to detailing employees to other offices just to find out what they are doing. . . . The government is taking the initiative in the salary-allotment plan for selling war bonds. . . . The President has appointed Rear Admiral Charles Conrad to promote the plan among government employees. . . .

Navy Relief

Contributions Help Win War: Sailors and Marines Fight Better If Families Can Be Cared For.

By DAMON RUNYON

THE Navy Relief society, now trying to raise a $5,000,000 fund for the relief of families of navy men, has Franklin D. Roosevelt as its honorary president.

Admiral H. R. Stark is the active president of the organization and Rear Admiral C. R. Train, retired, is the secretary and treasurer. The honorary vice presidents include Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, James V. Forrestal, undersecretary, and Ralph A. Bard, assistant secretary.

The National Citizens committee which is conducting the $5,000,000 campaign is headed by Clarence Dillon, its chairman, with Curtis E. Calder, J. Russell Foran and Ernest A. Tracy as vice chairman. William S. Gray Jr. is treasurer of the committee, which is forming a group of most distinguished citizens to assist in the work.

Among them are Charles Francis Adams of Boston, Winthrop W. Aldrich, Bruce Barton, Bernard M. Baruch, Thomas E. Dewey, James A. Farley, Frank L. Polk, Gordon S. Rent-schler, Thomas W. Lamont, Harold Vanderbilt, John Stewart Bryan, Sheldon Clark, William Green, David S. Ingalls and Reese Taylor.

It is estimated that the navy personnel now represents about 400,000 families, and the sum sought is $10 per family, on the average. It must be remembered that a greatly expanded navy, a larger marine corps and absorption into the navy of the coast guard have increased vastly the work and needs of the society. That is why the Citizens committee is calling on the public.

I am sure that some of the famous business executives associated with the committee will agree with my contention that a national lottery for the purpose of raising funds for army and navy relief would speedily dispose of the matter, but since, as I have said before, the lottery is a nebulous proposition, the $5,000,000 needed takes on the aspect of a major problem.

While it seems regrettable that the government, itself, cannot find funds to take care of the situation out of the billions at its disposal, we can congratulate ourselves that we have patriotic citizens of the caliber indicated who are willing to devote their time and money to this worthy cause. The sum required will be raised, all right.

COMMITTEES of citizens in important communities throughout the country are now being organized. The $5,000,000 sought has been apportioned equitably among them. The National Citizens committee seeks to raise the money with a minimum of expenditures. The estimated fund-making expenses of the national committee will be slightly over 2 per cent of the goal, which is a very low estimate, indeed.

I told you the other day something of the history of the Navy Relief society, mentioning as an important feature of its work, the emergency loans made to families totaling $533,667.49 in 1941. It is obvious that in wartime, when casualties are high, it is not possible to maintain the peacetime record of more than 20 per cent repayment of loans. Many must be written off—yet the loans must be continued to an even greater extent than ever.

As Admiral Stark has said, the Navy Relief society is the enlisted man's anchor to windward. He knows that when he sails into the war areas the loved ones he leaves behind have some measure of protection. They will be looked after in time of stress—when illness, accident or other emergency befalls. When a man off to the wars knows this, his peace of mind is assured. From that peace of mind comes uplift in morale, which, Admiral Stark says, sharpens the fighting edge.

Thus, in contributing to the Navy Relief society, you are contributing to the winning of the war. I think that Navy Relief is a cause that requires only attention-calling rather than high-pressure appeal. The public knows it is not charity that is asked, but rather the offering of a fine opportunity to the people at home to assist in the battle for the Stars and Stripes. Capital Courts Busy

WASHINGTON—Misdemeanors and traffic violations certainly are keeping pace with Washington's wartime expansion. The police courts are proud to report that this year they are going to do better than a $1,000,000 business in fines collected—almost $200,000 more than that boom year of 1941.

There has been a lot of talk about the staggering volume of new employees that are flocking to Washington daily, but hardly any one ever mentions the equally staggering labor supply that seems to be lurking about in the shadows of the Washington monument.

The other day, Civil Service opened applications for examinations for junior clerkships. More than 29,000 persons applied—all within commuting distance of Washington or in the city itself.

SOLDIER PAY BILL NEARS HOUSE VOTE

Helps Make Men with Dependents Eligible for Draft.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 1—Viewed as a forerunner to the extension of the armed services bill to include dependents and government payments to their families, a bill making the pay of low-income service men was sent to the House today by the military committee.

The bill, approved by the committee yesterday, the measure would increase the pay of privates, apprentices, seamen, give service men substantial increases, and the base pay of officers would be increased from $1,500 to $1,800.

The bill grants no base pay for higher grade officers but increases their total compensation by upward adjustments in allowances.

The total estimated cost to the government, based on Jan. 1, 1942, would be $282,412,221.

The bill followed the general plan recently approved by the House of the bill, some members predicted, would be passed by legislation to provide federal payments to dependents of drafted men, and possibly a relaxation of the policy of induction of men with dependent upon future.

Mr. May (D-Ky.) said he will seek house consideration of the bill probably next Tuesday.

PLANS TO REGISTER WOMEN DROPPED

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 1—President Roosevelt announced today that plans for voluntary registration of women for wartime activities had been dropped.

The Chief Executive disclosed that he had been advised by Paul V. Brennan, director of the War Relocation Authority, and woman power for the effort, had consulted women members of the social security council, and had been told that over there are more women than want jobs than there are openings for them.

The President indicated to his press conference that the decision not to go ahead with a voluntary registration for women was not necessarily permanent and that such a listing might be necessary at some future time.

Almost 1,500,000 women, Mr. Roosevelt said, are registered in local employment service offices. Any woman can register at these offices, he said, and there are 1,500 of them.

ALLIES KEEP ARMS FLOWING TO CHINA

By Preston Grover
AP War Correspondent

NEW DELHI, May 1—Come what may in Burma—and the situation looked dark today—all military men here are determined to keep open the supply lines to China and to maintain communications vital to a unified front.

The fall of Lashio, announced yesterday by the Chinese, complicated the situation, for establishment of a Japanese air base there would endanger operations of the big American freight planes now carrying war materials into China from India.

Military quarters expressed the rugged terrain now in the path of the Japanese, and the delay their progress toward the northeast frontier, until the heavy seasonal rains which are expected to halt large scale operations within a few weeks.

The possibility that all Burma will be lost, however, is clearly a remote possibility and plans are being made accordingly.

Present the Americans here are keen on the bulk of the Chinese and the Burma front, because they have the big freight planes necessary.

The number of planes of the 100th of course, military service, nevertheless it can be said that one of the operations has been the admiration of Indian soldiers.

JAP TRAP IN BURMA ESCAPED BY BRITISH

By The Associated Press
Escaping a Japanese entrapment, British troops guarding the right flank of the allied line in Burma have fallen back 80 miles to a new defense sector only 30 miles below Mandalay.

Impelled by the Japanese thrust to Lashio, 130 miles north of Mandalay, the British were said today to have withdrawn to protect the overland routes to India.

While the crisis in Burma remained acute, with the Japanese invaders now standing at the gateway to China astraddle the Burma road, a Chinese announcement declared the fall of Lashio would not halt the flow of Chinese reinforcements for the continued defense of north Burma.

Moreover, the Chinese said, alternative supply routes from India to China are already in working order.

Chinese dispatches said Lashio, captured by Japanese mechanized columns Wednesday, had been reduced to rubble by Japanese bombing assaults and the allies' scorched earth policy.

Dictators' Meeting No Longer Causes Allies To Quake

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
The meeting between Hitler and Mussolini last week of previous conferences to cause uneasiness among the allied peoples.

Time was when the world trembled at the all highest of dictators. Hitler and Mussolini were the only two who could cause uneasiness among the allied peoples.

Actually there could have been little call for this parity from the military standpoint, for the two completely dominated the weakened Italy. The meeting apparently was calculated to sound a note of confidence and solidarity at a moment when the Italian people are in the dog's head and the outside world is well aware of their unhappy state.

It is a matter of deepest interest that this was couched while referring to the overwhelming victories of the Axis powers (Germany, Italy and Japan), appears to have been devoted to the further conduct of the war by the two nations (Germany and Italy). This is to say, we are left to draw the conclusion that perhaps Hitler is being forced to abandon his idea of fully coordinating the efforts of the European Axis and the Japs.

There can be small doubt that Nippon is bent on feathering its own nest and that it has no intention of playing Hitler's game excepting as it is of benefit to Japan.

The conference announced the "stern determination of Germany and Italy to insure final victory by all means in their power." That means Germany's stern determination of course, and it should be said at once that it isn't a thing to be brushed lightly aside by the allies. The great Hitlerian war machine is terribly dangerous.

A fair answer to this declaration comes from Premier Stalin of Russia in his May day order of the day to his nation. The Red leader declares that the Soviet, with aid from America and Britain, must and can make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German fascist armies."

That is a mighty encouraging talk, but the thing which strikes me most forcibly is Stalin's statement that Russia has become stronger since the invasion of 1941.

Stalin says that while the Soviet has become stronger, Germany has weakened. Of Napoleon's position the Red leader says:

"Human reserves are running out. Oil is running out. Raw materials are running out. That is the story as professional observers know it, too. Hitler's resources are running low, and Italy is in bad shape."

Still, I think we must see the Russian and German fighting machines in action this summer before reaching any final conclusion as to their relative strength. We are facing probably the greatest and bloodiest battle of all time, and it would be a terrible mistake to underestimate the strength and military skill which Hitler presumably can throw into that conflict. It will take all the allies can muster to beat him.

Water erosion data collected from it gives the department of agriculture accurate and practical information on numerous problems of irrigation and drainage that harass the American farmer.

Sample crops are grown in the scale-upplotted soil and the lysimeter measures how much water is taken by the plants, how much by the wind, how much runs off and how much filters through.

Water's movement and the resulting erosion is another phase of the study in which Ellison has assigned conscientious objectors.

Two young physicists are working on a "hot wire" hydrologic gauge which Ellison says may revolutionize present methods of measuring water flow.

Two More College Grads

They are C. M. Braden, a graduate of Northwestern university, and Lewis Berg who was graduated from DePaul with a bachelor of arts degree and was awarded his masters at Syracuse university. Braden was a Y.M.C.A. secretary before being drafted. Berg worked in a grocery store between school terms.

The objectors are quartered in a former civilian conservation corps camp in the center of the experiment station. Those who can't pay their own way in a camp—$35 a month. Those who can't be assisted by sponsoring churches.

The little colony is governed, for the most part, by its own camp council, but the final say on most matters rests with Camp Director, Sumner Mills.

Mr. Mills, director of the American Friends Service Committee, representing one of several sponsoring churches, a former conscientious objector in the first World War, Mills left his job as manager of an Indiana dairy farm to supervise the camp here.

He has authority to issue leaves and furloughs and is responsible to selective service officials for conduct of the men.

United Service Organizations and other civic recreational societies aren't much concerned with pacifist these days. So the little colony must provide its own entertainment — if it has any.

Dictators' Meeting No Longer Causes Allies To Quake

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
The meeting between Hitler and Mussolini last week of previous conferences to cause uneasiness among the allied peoples.

Time was when the world trembled at the all highest of dictators. Hitler and Mussolini were the only two who could cause uneasiness among the allied peoples.

Actually there could have been little call for this parity from the military standpoint, for the two completely dominated the weakened Italy. The meeting apparently was calculated to sound a note of confidence and solidarity at a moment when the Italian people are in the dog's head and the outside world is well aware of their unhappy state.

It is a matter of deepest interest that this was couched while referring to the overwhelming victories of the Axis powers (Germany, Italy and Japan), appears to have been devoted to the further conduct of the war by the two nations (Germany and Italy). This is to say, we are left to draw the conclusion that perhaps Hitler is being forced to abandon his idea of fully coordinating the efforts of the European Axis and the Japs.

There can be small doubt that Nippon is bent on feathering its own nest and that it has no intention of playing Hitler's game excepting as it is of benefit to Japan.

The conference announced the "stern determination of Germany and Italy to insure final victory by all means in their power." That means Germany's stern determination of course, and it should be said at once that it isn't a thing to be brushed lightly aside by the allies. The great Hitlerian war machine is terribly dangerous.

A fair answer to this declaration comes from Premier Stalin of Russia in his May day order of the day to his nation. The Red leader declares that the Soviet, with aid from America and Britain, must and can make 1942 "a year of final defeat of the German fascist armies."

That is a mighty encouraging talk, but the thing which strikes me most forcibly is Stalin's statement that Russia has become stronger since the invasion of 1941.

Stalin says that while the Soviet has become stronger, Germany has weakened. Of Napoleon's position the Red leader says:

"Human reserves are running out. Oil is running out. Raw materials are running out. That is the story as professional observers know it, too. Hitler's resources are running low, and Italy is in bad shape."

Still, I think we must see the Russian and German fighting machines in action this summer before reaching any final conclusion as to their relative strength. We are facing probably the greatest and bloodiest battle of all time, and it would be a terrible mistake to underestimate the strength and military skill which Hitler presumably can throw into that conflict. It will take all the allies can muster to beat him.

Water erosion data collected from it gives the department of agriculture accurate and practical information on numerous problems of irrigation and drainage that harass the American farmer.

Sample crops are grown in the scale-upplotted soil and the lysimeter measures how much water is taken by the plants, how much by the wind, how much runs off and how much filters through.

Water's movement and the resulting erosion is another phase of the study in which Ellison has assigned conscientious objectors.

Two young physicists are working on a "hot wire" hydrologic gauge which Ellison says may revolutionize present methods of measuring water flow.

Two More College Grads

They are C. M. Braden, a graduate of Northwestern university, and Lewis Berg who was graduated from DePaul with a bachelor of arts degree and was awarded his masters at Syracuse university. Braden was a Y.M.C.A. secretary before being drafted. Berg worked in a grocery store between school terms.

The objectors are quartered in a former civilian conservation corps camp in the center of the experiment station. Those who can't pay their own way in a camp—$35 a month. Those who can't be assisted by sponsoring churches.

The little colony is governed, for the most part, by its own camp council, but the final say on most matters rests with Camp Director, Sumner Mills.

Mr. Mills, director of the American Friends Service Committee, representing one of several sponsoring churches, a former conscientious objector in the first World War, Mills left his job as manager of an Indiana dairy farm to supervise the camp here.

He has authority to issue leaves and furloughs and is responsible to selective service officials for conduct of the men.

United Service Organizations and other civic recreational societies aren't much concerned with pacifist these days. So the little colony must provide its own entertainment — if it has any.

Catheters in explain why the gravity flow system has been needed in the east and said he said that when the city installed the new plant about 15 years ago it was estimated it would cost about $1,000,000 to complete the job satisfactorily.

He reported it was felt a bond issue could not be floated for such an amount, but that $975,000 was raised. However, he said, the city ran out of funds and it was impossible to complete the system.

A Long Time Need

Mr. Cathers said it has been the ambition of the city to extend the system as is now planned under the government to it act for many years. He said the installation is an expensive one, that it will be constructed in solid rock, and that it will be built according to the city's own specifications and design.

The set on will be about 1,800 feet long. We have wanted it for 10 years and have needed it much longer, Mr. Cathers said. "With such a good outlet our city sewer system will be much improved."

Just how the Jefferson street line may be used after the plant stands up at Mr. Burgess said it could be used for a trunk line.

It was suggested that although the city would be required henceforth to bear the cost of maintenance on the whole system, a new clause be added to the contract whereby the city would be relieved of this responsibility for one year. The suggestion was considered reasonable by the officials of the plant and it was agreed it would be considered in revising the contract.

Mr. Slack asked what the effect on the present sewer system in the east end district will be when the new lines are installed.

PROSECUTOR FIRES BLAST AT PROBERS

Declares He Should Ignore Action of Jury.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 1.—Prosecutor William A. Ambrose today challenged a grand jury suggestion that a special prosecutor be appointed to clean up vice conditions in Marion county. The grand jury recommended to Common Pleas Judge J. H. C. Lyon yesterday that the governor of the state of Ohio should be requested and urged to have the attorney general or an assistant with the aid of a special grand jury make a complete investigation of vice and racketeering in Marion county. The jury reported a general breakdown in law enforcement and said they failed to receive necessary cooperation in the presentation and preparation of evidence. Ambrose, who was not present when the jury reported, commented that "there is no reason, no reason at all, for calling a special grand jury."

DEFENSE COUNCILS FACING NEW TASK

Finding Homes for War Workers To Be Duty.

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Ohio local defense councils will have a new job shortly—finding homes for war workers. The state defense council and state housing board asked the councils to set up committees to study the local housing problem and to determine if war industry workers are handicapped by a dwelling shortage. Courtney Burton, executive chairman of the state council, said that after completing surveys the local groups in cooperation with the U. S. employment service will attempt to find homes for workers who apply for help. The survey was asked after Price Administrator Leo Henderson announced that all of Ohio might be designated a defense area to control rent prices and make homes available to war workers. Eighteen Ohio areas already are under federal control. Burton said instructions to local councils will contain recommendations of O. W. L. Coffin of Cleveland, secretary of the state housing board, that housing committees include an attorney, a real estate broker, a personnel manager, an architect, a personnel manager, and a statistician.

250 KILLED IN BLAST IN NAZI TERRITORY

COFFEE HAS ENLISTED FOR VICTORY!

YOU CAN STILL ENJOY COFFEE—DON'T WASTE IT!

The War Production Board has placed restrictions on the distribution of all coffee. The order reduces the amount of coffee which may be delivered by roasters to 75% of deliveries during the corresponding period of 1941. This action will conserve supplies now on hand for the Army, Navy and civilians and is necessary because of wartime demands on merchant ships that normally transport coffee.

A S America's largest coffee merchant, A&P assures its customers that it will make every effort to see that each of you gets your share of all coffee available under the order. To do this A&P asks you to share with your neighbor by buying only one package of coffee at a time. Thus, you and your neighbors have an equal opportunity to continue to enjoy America's favorite beverage.

Help conserve coffee in your own kitchen. Do not make more than you know you and your family will drink. Be sure that every cup you make is the best possible—better to have one cup of good coffee than two poor ones.

- Follow these rules for a cup of good coffee:
1. Buy coffee that is freshly roasted.
 2. Buy coffee that is freshly ground and correctly ground for your coffee pot.
 3. Be sure your coffee pot is absolutely clean.
 4. Carefully measure both coffee and water—one heaping tablespoonful of coffee for each cup (½ pt.) of water.
 5. Serve immediately after brewing.

Follow these simple, practical rules. They'll help you make and enjoy perfect coffee every time. Don't waste coffee—give your full support to our government's conservation order. Enjoy coffee and share that pleasure with your neighbor.

The seniors' gift to the school was two large American flags. Rev. The program included a piano selection by Marion Kurz and selections by the girls' chorus.

The seniors' motto was "Forward." Their colors were navy blue and white and their class flower was the white carnation.

COMPANY TO COMPLY WITH NLRB ORDER

But Officials Doubt Plan Will Aid War Effort.

CHICAGO, May 1 — International Harvester Company, first concern ordered by the war labor board to establish "maintenance of union membership," will comply with the order although it said, "most Americans believe that union membership should not be forcibly increased at the expense of war production."

About 25,000 organized employees in eight middle western plants are affected by the innovation undertaken, the company said last night, because the firm did not wish to take any action that would "distract the company from its main task of war production."

The maintenance of union membership principle freezes membership in the majority union for the duration of the contract. Union members must keep in good standing but those who wish to leave the union before the contract takes effect may do so.

The CIO farm equipment workers organizing committee and two AFL federal unions had requested a union shop ruling under which union membership would be a requisite of employment and had agreed that members of the minority union in each plant would join the majority.

The company said "we are not convinced of the soundness of the 'war labor board's' conclusion that union maintenance will advance the cause of war production."

"It appears to us that the unrest and disturbance of war production over the months of the defense period were not due to the lack of union security plans in industry but were principally caused by the intensified organizing efforts of unions."

The WLB order was issued April 15 and the company previously agreed to wage increases granted by the board. Plants involved are in Springfield, O. Milwaukee, Wis., and six in Illinois.

ECONOMY ADVOCATES SLICE SUPPLY BILL

"Save Now or Be Sorry," Sen. Tydings Warns.

By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 1.—Fresh from a preliminary victory, senate economy advocates sought a new "drop-in-the-bucket" cut today in the independent office appropriation bill—the year's best supply bill for primarily non-defense agencies.

Despite some protests, the senate yesterday supported its appropriations committee in cutting $12,314,513 from the funds of various governmental departments for the fiscal year starting July 1, the principal slash being a travel expense allowance for a dozen agencies.

Even though the reductions were partly offset by certain committee recommendations, the chamber action stated a willingness to cut non-defense spending, once on a May 20 record vote. During the debate Senator Tydings (D-Md.) demanded that the senate "save money now, or you are going to rue the day before this international station is over."

Acknowledging that one of the proposed reductions might by itself be but a "drop in the bucket," Tydings added that victory would come to the nation which in the end had "the most drops left in the bucket."
At the bill passed the house it contained appropriations totaling $2,096,048,875, compared with $3,334,038,224 for the current year and budget estimates of $2,109,887,431 for the approaching fiscal year.

Ross and Billings Win Armory Mat Features

Promoter Les Fishbaugh, Tony Ross and Nick Billings won matches on the weekly wrestling program at the Armory last night.

Despite the fact that he was downed once in the half-hour preliminary, Fishbaugh won the decision because his opponent, Billy Venerable of Texas, failed to win a second fall in a two-fall handicap match.

In a clean, hard-fought scrap as has been seen in Marion for some time, Tony Ross, curly-haired El Paso, Texas, youth, downed cock-sure Lefty Pacer of Toledo twice after losing the first fall. Pacer opened the scrap with a fury of a wild boar but soon settled down to peace-time activity after Ross applied a half dozen arm locks. Pacer succeeded in winning the initial fall in 11 minutes when Ross missed an attempted drop kick and was flattened in a tight body press.

Ross came back after the 10-minute rest to win the second fall in six minutes with what he termed an "abdominal stretch."

Pacer came back storming and protesting that he was robbed. He dished out plenty of rough work before Ross landed a perfect drop kick and followed up with a body press in 18 minutes to win the scrap.

Nick Billings emerged the victor in a two-fall, 90-minute bout with Rufus Jones, the New York colored ace. Billings tamed Jones with Boston crab hold in eight minutes to win the first fall. The second fall followed the expected with Jones applying his "cranium cracker" after tossing Billings out of the ring once and chasing him out on two earlier occasions. The bulky Birmingham, Ala., Greek floored Jones in 45 seconds of the third and deciding fall. Upon entering the ring Billings aimed a kick at Jones' over-sensitive shins. This one blow unbalanced the dark-skinned youth's senses enough to allow Billings to splatter him in record-breaking time.

Sand Traps Are Mental Hazards To Be Overcome

By GENE SARAZEN
Former National Open Champion

The average golf duffer is scared to death of sand. Put him in a trap and you can generally bet he'll use up two or three shots getting out.

Furthermore, his only thought is concerned with getting out. He isn't thinking about landing close to the pin and getting down in one putt.

So, my suggestion to the great army of 100-plus golfers is to get acquainted with the sand traps—in practice sessions.

Even the pros were afraid of sand a few years ago but now, with a sand wedge in their bag, traps hold no fear for them. And it should be the same with duffers. It's simple to play a ball out of a trap with a wedge. . . . Take a full swing, hit an inch or so behind the ball and follow through. After you've practiced awhile you will learn just how much sand to take for the distance you have to cover.

Pros have such confidence in traps now that they are disappointed if they don't knock the ball out within six feet of the hole. Practice will enable the duffer to put the ball on the green, too, and near the hole more often than he imagines.

So get yourself a wedge and find a trap. You'll soon be coming out consistently with your first shot. And I'll guarantee you'll shave strokes off your score.

DETROIT TIGERS SELL ROWE TO BROOKLYN

To Report to National Loop Leaders at Once.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT May 1 — The Detroit Tigers announced yesterday sale of Lynwood (Schoebey) Rowe, 30-year-old right-hander, to the Brooklyn Dodgers for an undisclosed amount of cash. Rowe was in his tenth season in the American league and this year had won one and lost none.

The six-foot, four-inch Schoolboy reports to the National league club immediately.

Rowe won 12 games and lost 62 with the Tigers, but in recent years has been somewhat less effective than during the Detroit pennant seasons of 1934 and 1935. He shares the league record of 18 consecutive victories achieved in 1934 while winning 24 games.

Fire Destroys Building at Bucyrus Country Club

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, May 1 — Damage estimated at $1,000 was caused by fire Wednesday night when a tool shed and equipment stored in the building was destroyed. The fire is believed to have started from a spark from a backfiring tractor which was backed into the shed shortly before the fire was discovered.

Destroyed with the building were a tractor, a mower, a mower attachment and several hand mowers and several hundred feet of hose and several drums of oil. A gasoline storage tank south of the structure was not damaged, due to the efforts of the Bucyrus fire department.

The loss was covered by insurance.
